Postal services In the country

3740. SHRI KRISHNA KUMAR BIRLA : Will the Minister of COMMUNICATION be pleased to state :

(a) whether it is a fact that postal services both in the rural and urban areas continue to be inefficient and that there are persistent complaints in this regard;

(b) if so, what measures have been taken by Government to identify shortcomings in the postal services in the country; and

(c) whether any changes in the Indian Post Office Act are contemplated to provide efficient postal services in the country?

THE MINISTER OF STATE OF THE MINISTRY OF COMMUNICATIONS (SHRI SUKH RAM) : (a) The Postal Services in India has a widespread network of more than 1,52,000 Post Offices which receive and deliver mails and provide other postal services. In such a widespread network certain inefficiencies and complaints about deficiency of service are inevitably noticed, but on the whole, the service is run on efficient lines.

(b) In he recent past, Government had appointed an expert committee on excellence in postal services to identify the shortcomings in the postal service and suggest remedial measures. Many of the recommendations of this committee' have been implemented and others are in various stages of implementation. In order to get an independent feedback on the state of postal service, Government have also appointed a Social Audit Panel comprising eminent citizens. This Panel has made several useful recommendations to improve the services. The Deptt. of Posts has a System of regular review and monitoring of the mail delivery throughout the country and remedial steps are taken CATIONS be pleased to state :

(c) A committee to recommend amendments to the Indian Post Office Act, 1898 was appointed by the Govt., which has since submitted its report. Necessary amendments to the existing Indian Post Offices Act will be made after the Govt. decides on the recommendations of the Post Office Act Review Committee.
